

"I like textured surfaces, the play of light on a weathered door or the beautiful complex colour arrangement that only reveals itself through time. I also engineer the truth. This is my reality, most often not necessarily nature's."

Angus McEwan ARWS

"The subtle nuances that only the passage of time can imbue, these are the subjects that bring me the greatest joy."

David Poxon RI

"Textures, surfaces, and reflections offer me the painterly challenges I am interested in. There is no better medium than water colour with which to render the natural world."

Denis Ryan RWS

"I hope that my paintings will inspire others to look at their surroundings in a fresh way discovering for themselves the harmonies of shadows and textures that form the hidden beauty and mystery of cities."
